ILLIAMS GAVE LARGEST SUM

OWEN'S CAMPAIGN COSTS ARE SMALLEST RECORDED; 300 CONTRIBUTE WITH FED. JUDGE LEADING.

By the Associated Press

TULSA, Okla., May 25.—The expenditures of Sentaor Robert L. Owen in his race for president, are probably lighter than any other candidate in either party, according to a report forwarded to Washington today from T. D. Lyons, treasurer of the "Owen for President" league, in his response to a request from Senator Kenyon of Iowa, chairman of the committee investigating expenditures of the candidates.

A total of $7,810 has been collected and $3,352 disbursed, leaving $4,458 on hand. The fund was collected from about 300 personal friends of Senator Owen, the largest subscription being $1,000 contributed by Judge Robert L. Williams.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—J. W. Beller, of Washington, appearing for Senator Owen, democrat, of Oklahoma, was the first witness today in the senate's investigation preconvention campaign expenditures.

Oklahoma supporters of the senator, he testified, raised $7,810 for the campaign and $2,600 was given through the Washington headquarters. Samuel Untermeyer, of New York who gave $1,000 he said was the largest contributor, though Chas. Owens of Oklahoma, a cousin of the candidate gave $500 at the start.

"Can you run a pretty good presidential campaign on ten thousand dollars?" asked Chairman Kenyon. "We could have used considerably more," Mr. Beller replied. "Our total could have been expended in a single state pirmary fight very easily. We have secured no delegates outside of Oklahoma.

Mayor Wants to Know What Is To Be Done About Bathing Pool

Mayor Gary Kitchens of Ada wants to know what is to be done about a bathing pool for the pleasure and health of the citizens of Ada.

Last year when the question of putting in a bathing pool came up, the city commissioners passed it on to the people to decide whether or not such a pool should be established. The Lions Club were active in support of the proposition and the mayor says the Lions asked that a sum of $10,000 be voted on for the new water works bonds for the pool. The mayor says the Lions agreed to give $5,000 toward the proposition if the people would vote the $10,000. The mayor says it was the intention of the Lions and the commissioners to erect a club house for the Boy Scouts in the city park in connection with the bathing pool and to secure a scoutmaster to direct them in their activities.

The people of Ada voted the 0,000 as their part of the funds, but the mayor says the Lions have not taken up their end of the deal and he wants to know what they propose to do about it. The mayor says he is simply waiting on the Lions as they were to supervise the installation of the pool and scout use. The city's part of the money is in the bank waiting to be used and the mayor hopes to see the bathing pool established in time for this summer.

GOVERNMENT SAYS SUGAR MUST BE SOLD AT COST VALUE — NOT AT REPLACEMENT VALUE.

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 25—An investigation of the sugar market for the purpose of remedying conditions and obtaining an equitable distribution, even if it be at the expense of some non-essential industries, was under way today before A. R. Riley, special assistant to Attorney General Palmer.

Three representatives of large sugar interests were summoned to appear before Mr. Riley in a series of informal meetings.

Mr. Riley declares the government intended to stop the reselling of sugar at prices based upon replacement value, instead of cost.

CARRANZA BURIED IN POTTERS FIELD

By the Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, May 25.—In accordance with his oft repeated request, President Carranza, slain last Thursday at Tlaxcalantongo, was buried late yesterday afternoon in Dolores cemetery, where in the shadow of Chapultepec, the poorest of Mexicans have for many years found their last resting place.

The fate of Louis Cabrera, secretary of the treasury, is unknown.

None of the prisoners were permitted to attend the funeral of their late chief.

By the Associated Press

VERA CRUZ, May 25.—Report of the autopsy performed on the body of President Carranza, at Tlaxcalantonga, failed to agree with the report that the president committed suicide rather than be taken captive ,it is asserted in official quarters here.

Surgeons who conducted the autopsy, it is declared, found Carranza had been struck by two rifle bullets, one of which penetrated his breast and one his abdomen. The bullets entered from the front and it was the conclusion of those who witnessed the operation that the president had been assassinated, it is said.

Steedman Field Now Booming With Oil Activities

The oil situation in the country about Steedman is developing great interest nowadays, according to John Edwards, who was in Ada this morning looking after business matters. Several new rigs are now on the side tracks at Steedman to be unloaded and set up at once. Twelve new locations for immediate drilling have been made and active work on the new wells is to begin in a few days. A company of Ardmore people with large holdings in the Steedman field have arrived on the ground with their drillers and are now living in tents close by their acreage. Prospects are most flattering for a large development in this field during the year.

Citizens Wanted On Assault Complaint Have Disappeared

When Walter Goyne went to the home of one Sawyer in the western part of the city to serve a criminal warrant on him he found the place where Sawyer had been but Sawyer himself was gone. It is said that he took a train with him when he went south last night and is now somewhere in the state of the Alamo and the Lone Star.

It seems that Sawver became involved in an altercation on West 12th street yesterday afternoon with Alman Griffith. The trouble occurred when Griffith tried to stop one small boy who was pulling up flowers at the Griffith home. Sawyer became peeved and struck Griffith, who swore out a complaint against Sawyer charging him with assault and battery. The constable still has the warrant but no Sawyer.

A letter from Harris Ingram to his mother, Mrs. Anna Ingram, states that he has recently arrived in New York after a three months' trip with his ship in Cuban waters. The ship goes to Virginia from New York. Harris will receive his discharge in July and will then return to Ada to live.

ENCOURAGING REPORT FROM FEDERAL BANK

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 25.—A general revision down of prices of all commodities, except food, growing tentatively toward thrift and an improvement in the labor situation, are three encouraging factors in the report of the seventh federal reserve district.

A decided readjustment of the economic and social influences governing the nation is being anticipated by the business world, the report says, with the situation complicated by lack of any precedent by which business men might be guided.

Probably the most disturbing element in the entire situation is the almost demoralized condition of our railroads, the credit supply is restricted and the demand outstrips any previous total in the world, and last, but not least in importance by any means, there is the complication of growing signs of a general revision of prices if all commodities, with the trend in most downward. The continued high price of food is the most important exception. Other living costs, however, give great encouragement, such as clothing and shoes.

FOUR NEEDS FOR H. C. L. REDUCTION

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Economy and individual expenditures, reduction of non-essentilas, increased duction of non-essentials, increased tation are needed to reduce the cost of living and deflate credits, Governor Harding of the federal reserve force declared today in responding to a senate resolution of inquiry.

The board is not prepared to say what are essential and non-essential loans, Governor Harding stated. This he said, is a problem for local bankers familiar with local needs.

Governor Harding told of the recent conference here of the Federal reserve revisory council and its recommendation of curtailment of credit together with the opinion that congestion of transportation facilities is tying up great quantities of food stuff.

In the effort to reduce non-essential loans banks were cautioned against drastic curtailments and advised to seek gradual liquidation and to grant loans stimulating essential production.

ADA GREENHOUSE ASSET TO CITY

20,000 CARNATIONS IN BLOOM AT ONE TIME. FURNISHES FLOWERS TO 26 TOWNS INCLUDING DALLAS.

W. E. Pitt, proprietor of the Ada Greenhouse, could truthfully be called the Carnation King. If you doubt this statement take a ride some afternoon and visit his carnation gardens northwest of Ada.

At the present time the Ada green house has more than five acres abloom with the famous flower. More than 20,000 of the beautiful plants are found in this one field, in addition to thousands of others in the hot houses at the plant.

Mr. Pitt is a flower man by birth and training. He has been in the business 17 years, or since he was 11 years of age. It is said that as a little boy he was so carried away with the glory of flowers that his parents home was a bower of beauty made so by the labor and artistic designs of W. E.

Mr. Pitt has been in Ada six years. When he first opened the green house here many people said he could not succeed, but he "with a chuckle replied that maybe he couldn't but he would be one who wouldn't say so till he'd tried." Mr. Pitt started business in Ada with a very small capital and by hard work and strict business methods is today rated as one of the most successful business men in the city. When the Ada Greenhouse first opened Mr. Pitt did all the work himself. He had five acres of land. Today the flower gardens include 10 acres of the best land around Ada; he furnishes flowers to 26 towns and cities; he has three of the finest glass houses in the country with another being built; he has three residences on his place and he uses seven people in carrying on his business. Mr. Pitt attributes much of his success to his wife who is bookkeeper and office manager.

Mr. Pitt says there is no improvement in the flower growing business that they do not have. Each summer he travels to some other part of the United States to learn more of the business which is his life work. Mr. Pitt was reared in Texas, but when 17 years of age left home to study how to grow flowers. He went to Canada first and later worked in Illinois and other states where the flower business is scientifically conducted. When only a young man Mr. Pitt was made manager of a large flower business in Texas and his only reason for leaving this place was to get into business for himself.

The plant of the Ada Greenhouse consists of three large glass houses with another being built. These are equipped with the latest improvements and the heating apparatus is the best that money will buy. They have also a modern packing plant and can pack and get ready for delivery boxes of flowers on short notice. Deliveries of flowers are made in the city of Ada of amounts as small as 50 cents. The number of plants in the hot houses cannot be estimated, but Mr. Pitt says that they have pots to take care of 60,000 plants at one time.

Mr. Pitt makes a specialty of carnations, although they grow dozens of other kinds of flowers. The greenhouses do not attempt to grow roses as the soil and water of Ada are not suited to the proper growth of this flower. The plant has contracts now for thousands of carnations to be shipped to Dallas and other large cities. It is said the plant grown here is as perfect as any grown in the world. They have contracts to supply 10,000 carnations to Dallas florists during the coming summer. Two thousands of these are shipped each week.

The Ada Greenhouse is one of the best assets of the city of Ada and the people are glad to have such an institution located here.

Local Officers Confiscate Cargo of Pickled Ginger

DOES YOUR MIND EVER WORRY?

THE LINE BETWEEN SANITY AND INSANITY IS VERY NARROW, SAY THE SCIENTISTS.

"Why should the mind take these mysterious sidesteps? Perhaps the answer becomes clearer when we put the question the other way. Why should it not? Do you expect to go through life without a toothache, or a headache, without a cold in your head, without a bilious attack? If you are free from all these little trials you are singularly fortunate. Most of us have tasted them. Then why expect the mind to go scot free from minol ailments?

A Meaningless Jingle.

"In point of fact, of course, it does not. There is, for example, that harrowing experience of having a tune run through your head. It usually is some silly jingle that you would give anything to rid yourself of. Sometimes it is a line of poetry or perhaps some meaningless phrase. Efforts of the will to banish the offending theme from ones' mind are of little avail. Usually, after a while, the 'attack' wears off of its own accord. It is true that in some persons such an obsession takes on a violent form, robbing them of sleep and rendering them positively ill. The thing may even go farther than that, as in the case of one person who was so completely under the control of his obsession that he just had to sing his tune aloud in the middle of the night. Not only he but his relatives were losing sleep. Such a case as this, of course, beyond the bounds of the comparatively harmless little tricks of a tired mind and calls for medical attention.

"Some antics of the mind are difficult to account for from any point of view. Many persons when brought to the edge of a cliff or of a roof, or of a body of water, feel a strong impulse to jump off into space or into the water—even though, in the latter case, they may not be able to swim. This feeling is sometimes so keen that such persons are afraid to go near these places for fear they might give way to it.

"Another common affliction is the fear of forgetting something important. The attack usually comes on after a serious omission of some kind has actually been made. Perhaps you have committed the blunder of mailing a letter unsigned, or without the proper enclosure or with insufficient postage, or improperly addressed, or have made yourself guilty of some other such sin unpardonable in a businesslike individual. After that you are haunted with a fear, whenever you mail a letter, that you have made a similar blunder. Or perhaps you tear it open to be sure it was right.

"If you are a normal person this unpleasant state of affairs soon corrects itself, and you regain your self-confidence. In weak-minded persons the condition may persist and even become quite grave. It may hinge on some trivial and foolish circumstance, as in the case of the woman who kept strict count of all the pins and needles in her house, so that "if there should be one dropped in the soup, I shall know it.'

"These fears, or phobias, as they are called, take on all sorts of fantastic forms. A rather common example is a highly exaggerated punctilious regard for cleanliness. Then the day becomes a continuous performance of washing hands, brushing clothes and so forth. At night, before retiring, the bed must be gone over with a clothes brush. Nothing quite allays the fear of dirt or dust.

"Another person is afraid of saying improper things. She adopts a sign language and never utters a word. At night she seals her lips with adhesive tape, or tries to sleep with her tongue stretched out far and clenched between her teeth.

Fears His Existence.

"Another is seized with a terrible doubt as to his own existence. He goes to wake his sister in the middle of the night to reassure himself: "I am talking to you, so then I exist, do I not?" Still another is irritated by the noise of people chewing their food at meals. He puts cotton in his ears, but soon this affords no relief He avoids banquets and dinners; he cannot bear to sit at the table with his wife and children, and finally he is forced to eat in solitude

"Then there is the case of the man who was usable to make any progress in his reading, because he was afraid he had skipped a page by mistake, so he had to start again at the top of the page. He kept doing this over and over and could never get beyond that one page.

"Another man is haunted by the fear that he will blush at an awkward moment. He resorts to all sorts of queer practices to meet the situation. He uses paint and powder to hide his natural complexion. He pretends to be reading a newspaper so as to hide his face. Or, to keep his thoughts occupied, so that they will not revert to the embarrassing subject, he goes on his way along the street balancing a ruler on his shoulder.

"One desperate individual demanded that the arteries of his neck be tied, so as to prevent the tell-tale flow of blood to his face. Another threatened to put out his eyes, so as to be unconscious of the embarrassing game of the people around him. Even suicide has been committed to escape this dread of blushing.

"Phobias or fears are not the only motives that will make people act 'queer'. Some persons simply feel an impulse to do peculiar things for no particular reason. One man, ever since he was 10 years old, has counted every word he has spoken, thought, read or heard. He shows no signs of fatigue from his formidable mental activity.

"Another 'queer' person feels that he must step into every mud puddle on the sidewalks as he goes along. He must buy just three copies of the daily paper and smoke just three pipes. Not satisfied with his own peculiarities he insists that his wife and children go through similar antics to conform to his spleen.

"We have all heard of 'human ostriches' who swallow all sorts of utterly indigestible things, the presence of which is easily disclosed by X-ray photography. Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, in his 'Recollections of an Alienist,' tells of a woman who had a mania for thrusting all sorts of articles into her flesh. They drew out of her 94 pieces of glass, 34 wood splinters, 2 tacks, 4 shoenails, and an assortment of pins and needles.

Lose Control of Actions.

"Most bizarre of all, perhaps, are the actions of a person in a state of apraxia, as it is called. Such a person may be in full possession of his mental faculties, but has lost the control over certain of his actions. He intends to do one thing, but in fact he does something quite different. So for example, he is given a cigar and a box of matches. He takes the box opens it, inserts the end of his cigar, and tries to close the box, as if to clip off the tip of the cigar. He realizes that this is wrong, so he tries again. This time he rubs the cigar, like a match against the side of the box. Finally he lights the cigar, but at both ends. When given a box of shoe blacking and a brush, he starts to brush his hair instead of his shoes.

"You may ask, how do we know such a man is in possession of his sense? Partly becaue he recognizes and correctly names the various articles that he so strangely mis-uses. But partly also through the light shed on instances of this kind by a most extraordinary case observed some years ago. Here the apraxia affected only the right side of the victim. As the man like most of us, customarily employed by preference his right arm and hand, the peculiarity of his case for a long time remained undiscovered, and in fact his condition had been pronounced that of a hopeless imbecile. Then it was noticed that his actions with the telephone for instance were very peculiar. With the left hand he would correctly place the receiver to his ear. But the transmitter, which he held in his right hand, he would put first up to his eye, then to his forehead. then he would try blowing into it. Finally it was discovered that if his right hand were held or bound tight, so that he was forced to use his left, he performed all required actions correctly and sanely.

"It was thus shown conclusively that in this case, at any rate, apraxia is not so much a disorder of the mind, as of the mechanism by which the mind controls the actions.

RAPID DEVELOPMENT OF DAIRY INDUSTRY MAKES CANADA RIVAL U.S.

THE MODERN MILK MAID

WINNIPEG, Man.—With less than one-tenth of the population of the United States, Canada has more than half as many creameries and cheese factories. Canada has 3,350 and the United States 6,323.

The annual production of creamery butter in the two countries is approximately proportionate to population. The United States in 1918 produced 793,275,309 pounds of butter and Canada 93,266,876 pounds.

In cheese production the output of Canada equaled more than 70 per cent of that of the United States. The United States produced 247,267,503 pounds and Canada 174,881,957. Canada in 1918 exported 164,000,000 pounds of cheese and the United States 48,404,000.

The remarkable growth of the dairy industry in Canada in recent years is attributed to the government's policy of subsidizing creameries, cold storage warehouses and refrigerated transportation for dairy products and a system of foreign marketing through inspection of butter and cheese at ports of shipment.

In the future development of the dairying industry, Canada, it is pointed out, has the advantage of large areas of relatively cheap lands which will be rapidly settled and of a general trend toward mixed farming, in which dairying is becoming an increasingly important factor.

The United States even now is close to the point when it will consume its total butter production. In 1918 it exported only 26,194,000 pounds out of a total production of 793,000,000 pounds—a narrow margin that would quickly vanish with a slight falling off in production or a slight increase in consumption. Canadian butter is already a competitor in American markets and may be expected to become more formidable as the dairy industry grows in Canada with increased settlement.

Joe Stecher.

By Norman E. Brown.

Speaking of champions, it strikes me that the laurel wreath for being an up and doing king goes, just now, to Joe Stecher, world's heavyweight wrestling champ.

Stecher came into power Jan. 30 this year by defeating Earl Caddock. Since then, in less than three months, he has defended his title three times. And two of the men he tackled were the most formidable opponents he had, excluding the deposed Caddock.

When you compare this record of activity with the inactivity of our movie-loving kings in the boxing game, Joe looks pretty good.

Stecher is a Dodge, Neb., lad, a former farmer boy. He broke into fame early in his career through a man-killing hold he perfected, called the body scissors hold. This hold is obtained by Stecher placing his two knees against the sides of his opponent's ribs, Joe then placing his feet inside his opponent's legs at the calves. This foothold gives the leverage needed for the hold. Stecher then squeezes his legs until his opponent becomes short of wind and in misery from the pain. Then Stecher gets a double wrist lock and lays his opponent flat for a fall.

Stecher had his first chance at the title in 1917, when he and Earl Caddock were admittedly the leading aspirants for the title left by the late Frank Gotch. Stecher and Caddock met in April that year in Omaha and Caddock won when Stecher failed to answer the gong for the third and deciding fall. Caddock's victories later over Zbyszko and Strangler Lewis earned him the crown.

HAS FOUND A SURE WAY OF AVOIDING CHILLS AND AGUE

TAKES SWAMP CHILL AND FEVER TONIC BEFORE DISEASE GETS HOLD OF SYSTEM.

Mr. John Glasco of Dierks, Ark., has the right idea on avoiding malaria and similar ailments. He always keep a bottle of Swamp Chill and Fever Tonic on hand, and begins taking it before the disease has time to get going. He says he uses it for all stomach disorders, too.

Other sufferers from malaria, ague, etc., are equally as hearty in their praise of Swamp Chill and Fever Tonic. And many others find it just as effective for colds and grippe as it is for chills and fever.

It seldom takes more than three days to break up malaria chills with Swamp Chill and Fever Tonic. And no purgative has to be taken with it—the tonic itself acts gently and agreeably upon the liver and bowels. It contains no calomel, and is tasteless and pleasant to take.

For over twenty years Swamp Chill Tonic has been the favorite prescription of a great many physicians. They endorse it because they know it is good.

FRIENDSHIP SEEN WITH MEXICO

ROGERS BACK FROM BORDER PREDICTS ERA OF PROSPERITY FOR DE LA HUERTA.

By News' Special Service:

TULSA, Okla., May 25.—A new order of things is stalking Mexico and the change will operate only for the advancement of that much pillaged and plundered nation. An hour is coming when Mexico will in fact be a nation friendly to the United States and the lives and the property of American citizens in that country will be accorded protection of the Mexican government.

So spoke Harry H. Rogers, oil producer and former president of the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce, who reached Tulsa yesterday after several weeks spent along the Mexican border and at San Antonio Texas.

"Carranza," he said, "bore naught but hatred for the United States. He alone is responsible for the treatment that has been accorded Americans in that country. I have seen Cararnza and I have heard him speak. I have studied the deposed ruler of Mexico and in my estimation he was nothing but a common crook and thief.

"His refusal to abide by the provision of the new constitution which provided elections for the selection of the president of that country brought about the recent revolt which was a studied affair. It was a well planned revolt that was months in preparation and terminated successfully.

"De la Huerta, the provisional president, will prove a friend to the United States. He is governor of Sonora and it was in the state of Sonora, under his reign as governor, that efforts were made to protect Americans. He was educated in the United States and is an ardent supporter of the American way.

"I have said it before and have been severely criticised for the statement, but I'll say again that Carranza was responsible for the United States going to war against Germany. Carranza was the most powerful German propagandist that worked against this country.

"Carranza told the Germans that the United States was a nation of cowards and that they would not fight. So insistent was he in his contention that Germany threw discretion to the winds and heaped insult after insult upon the United States. The result is well known.

"I have faith in the new regime that is taking hold of Mexico. The refugees who have been flocking into San Antonio also have faith in de la Huerta and Obergon for they are returning to that country. Some of the most influential financiers and business men of that country fled Mexico and came to San Antonio when the revolt broke and now that Carranza has been unseated they are going back looking forward to a stabilized government and the moulding of a progressive program that will make a new nation to the south.

Obregon is Shrewd.

"Obregon is a safe man. He is canny and shrewd as evidenced by his spectacular escape from Mexico City when Carranza's troops had him surrounded. Exchanging clothing with a railroad brakeman, throwing an old overcoat over his stub arm and swinging a railroad lantern he passed through Carranza's men and escaped on a freight train.

"I believe a new Mexico is in the making. The time is not far distant when the people will be permitted to have a voice in the selection of their heads."

DOESN'T NEED ANY LAXATIVES NOW

Mr. Becker says life is a joy, without constipation or stomach trouble.

"I had catarrh of the stomach and head for three years. My stomach was so bad that every time I ate anything sweet, such as fruit or pastry, the burning hot water would run out of my mouth. I took a laxative every night.

"Since taking Milks Emulsion, my bowels move regularly. I have now taken ten bottles and have gained 10½ pounds. All my friends remark how fine I am looking, and it seems a pleasure to live again, without stomach trouble."—Bert Becker, Miami, Ohio.

Physics usually make slaves out of their users, and weaken the bowels instead of correcting them. Stomach trouble in many cases is directly due to constipation.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Miss Edna Geister.

Introducing Miss Edna Geister of "Everywhere," who is a specialist in teaching people how to play, and she is said to be the most artful speicalist in her line in the country. Her motto is, "Develop Your Personality," and she seems to have lived up to it with unusual success.

It is the personality of this charming young woman which impresses you the minute you see her. She is tall and blonde and very young for one of her experience and poise. She started in to do intensive recreational work during the war. The first work she did was as a recreational secretary for the Y. W. C. A. She started what was called popularity parties at the different camps. The first one was such a huge succeess that she was later sent all over the country "to start things going" along recreational lines in the various camps.

After the war Miss Geister was sent to Hawaii to teach the children and grown-ups there how to play. While there she taught people of forty nationalities how to play. Her main work there among the children was to get spontaneity and self-expression and to study the needs of the people.

When she returned from Hawaii she became national executive recreational secretary of the Y. W. C. A. In that capacity she has been doing experimental work in schools, rural communities and churches along recreational lines. In fact, she insists that all of her work has been only experimental.

When one knows of her early life it is then one realizes why she is such an adept at the unique work which she has undertaaken. She was born in Elgin, Ill., and was one of nine children. Her childhood, according to her own story, was just one long drawn-out party. The play hall in the Geister home where all the children played and where Edna usually led the games, was called "Geisterville." It was here that her individuality and personality grew. It was here that she made up games and kept the family amused and entertained. It was here that she developed her endless patience, initiative and ideas and started the foundation for her remarkable career.

Then she left home to become Miss Geister, of "Everywhere." She attended Northwestern university and later took a master's degree at Columbia. After she had done a great deal of work and experimenting, she wrote a book, called "Ice-Breakers," which gives games of all kinds for large and small groups. It is being used throughout the country by teachers, churches, clubs and the like.

Merry Madcaps Win Theatre Goers Hearts In First Performance

A reporter for the News attended the performance of the Jen. Gladstone and her Merry Madcaps last night at the Liberty Theatre.

The performance of this company was one seldom equalled and never surpassed in this part of the country. The costumes worn by the women may be described as beautiful and their songs and dances are of the most artistic and attractive kind. There is nothing the least offensive in the produetion. The women's band composed of nine women and three men is worth going miles to see.

The picture, "Human Desire," with pretty Anita Stewart as the star, is fully in keeping with the Liberty's rule of giving the very best to its patrons. The theater fully deserves the large patronage it received last night.

DON'T GIVE UP NOW

These commencement days are bright and joyful to the youngster who has been confined to one crowded school room for about nine months. Nevertheless they are days of danger to the bright and smiling lads and lassies just entering a summer vacation. The busy workaday world appeals to many of the newly freed students. Many of them will never attend school another day.

Tired of the dust and grime and humdrum of the campus and the classroom many of them will yield to the temptation of present employment at handsome wages and will permit the sirens of business to lead them far from their earlier ideals. They will become so wedded to their new vocation that the world of books will have been forgotten before the school bell rings again. Its mellow chimes will fall on careless ears when the yellow leaves of September deck the forest.

No mistake is more to be guarded against just now. The student tired of study and coveting employment should remember that the world is passing rapidly into the collegian's hand. Men and women without a college education will play a sorry part in the world's affairs during the crises of the future. The unlettered souls will pass down beneath the accumulated strata of society to become mere hewers of stone and drawers of water for those who returned to school. A man without an education has been handicapped from the beginning of this republic. The time is now almost here when such a man will be a nonentity. The same rules that govern men in the future will govern women, for every door of politics and economics now admits men and women on equal terms.

No student can afford to listen to any story leading him away from an unfinished task of educating himself for the future. He cannot afford to suspend his studies even for a fancy wage. When he chooses business in place of study he deliberately chooses to play a minor part in the tremendous game of living. Don't do it. Make up your mind today that no matter how bright the paths that lead away from the school room you will remain a student till you are as well prepared for the grim battles of the future as anyone whom you may meet in any walk or calling of life.

PRODUCING DEFORMED MINDS

Figure it out this way. The school that runs only half as long as the average school gives its pupils only half an education. The pupil who is only half educated has only a half chance in life. The boy who attends school only half as much as other boys is like a man with a cork leg lined up in foot race with men possessing two good legs.

There are other handicaps beside short terms of school. An inadequate building, poor educational equipment and an incompetent teacher can put shoes of lead on the most ambitious pupil. A dull and listless teacher can take the life out of any pupil's aspirations. Insufficient equipment limits the learning power of the boy or girl. A delapidated school building puts a damper on every pupil sitting within its gloomy walls.

Thus the citizen who opposes plans necessary for the development of a good school is putting handcuffs on the brain of childhood and robbing them of their opportunity. An opponent of good schools is an enemy of the republic.

If, as Bailey says, he was beaten in the Texas precincts by the women and preachers, it proves either that Bailey was mistaken when he said that women will not participate in politics or there are more preachers in Texas than in the other states combined.

These modern styles of feminine dress may be as shocking to the sensibilities as the puritans claim, but they have one decided virtue. There is no longer any such thing as marriage sight-unseen, and every prospective bridegroom knows in advance exactly what he is getting.

We hope that the friends of Senator Gore will pardon us for suggesting that the large crowds he is now addressing are no longer than the crowds addressed by Bailey just before he lost ninety five per cent of the precincts in Texas including his own.

We try to maintain a charitable frame of mind towards all our fellowmen, but we just can't keep from wishing that every one of these civilians who know so much about running a newspaper had to.

The thermometer that hangs in the drug store window bears striking evidence that it is now perfectly safe to take them off.

State Press Comment

Okemah Ledger: "Gov. J. B. A. Robertson says the way to reduce the high cost of living is just to quit buying costly things. True enough, too."

Healdton Herald: Some people have talked so much about the mistakes of the government that they had no time to get out to the primaries and vote.

Healdton Herald: The list of automobile accidents is something terrible, but anyway, the old junk never tries to climb a tree just because a paper was blowing around in the road.

Hominy News: "Senator Gore needs help, but the indications are that his old pal Jim Reed is in no condition to listen to a hurry up call. Jim may be able to advise him, however, which side of a steam roller affords the most comfort."

Durant Democrat: Congress has concluded that it were better to postpone action on the proposed cash bonus to soldiers until after the recess of congress. To be real blunt about it, the vote-seeking politicans who seem to predominate at Washington, have discovered that perhaps this vote-making bill won't make quite so many votes as it would lose. Peanut politicians—that's the big trouble. Real constructive statesmanship seems to have been forgotten for a long time up here.

MAMMOTH CAVE TO BE A NATIONAL PARK

By the Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 25.—Mammoth Cave, Kentucky's contribution to the wonders of the world, may soon be purchased and transformed into an extensive national park.

Reports from Washington are to the effect that the rules committee of the house of representatives contemplates calling up for passage shortly a measure with this in view. This is House Bill No. 3110, introduced by Reperesentative Robert Y. Thomas of the third eKntucky district, which would appropriate $1,000,000 for the government to purchase the great tavern and the 32,000 acres of virgin forest land lying around it.

The movement to make a national park of the famous cave has been carried on by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. Other organization, including the National Conservation Congress, Southern Commercial Congress, National oFrestry Association, and National Geographic Society, have joined in the movement with resolutions urging the government to preserve the cave as a national park.

Many letters have been received by Kendrick R. Lewis, chairman of a committee of the Louisville lodge of Elks, from individuals all over the country supporting the project. Stephen Mather, National Park commissioner, and Coleman Du Pont are among them.

Mr. Lewis, who is Past Exalted Ruler, Louisville lodge said the Elks are supporting the house bill because "preservation of the gigantic cavern as a national park would be one of the greatest accomplishments for the public good ever attained."

"Mammoth Cave," he said, "ranks as a world's wonder equally with Niagara Falls and Yellowston park. Situated in Edmonson County, Ky., it is one of the most picturesque sections of the country and is surrounded by a primitve forest of hardwood timber comprising 32,000 acres.

"The property is to be sold at public auction in the near future, I understand, and many timber men are endeavoring to purchase it. The nation in general and Kentucky in particular wishes the government to buy the cave and land in order to save the natural wonder for future generations to see."

From the year of its discovery, 1809, by a hunter, explorations have been made over 100 miles of its interior. The cave's first exploitation came in 1812 during the war with the British when men went into it to mine the soft soil for saltpeter for use in making gunpowder.

Mammoth Cave is today the greatest subterranean area known to exist. It has five different levels and the temperature is at all times 54 degrees. Eternal darkness and stillness reign supreme. Stalactites and Stalagmites take on the form of fluted columns, of festoons and draperies. There are great auditoriums with lofty ceilings—where the formations resemble a starlit sky—domes a hundred feet high, the sides formed of tier after tier of fluted columns, and a river, the Echo, navigable for half a mile, which derives its name from the fact that the slightest noise is intensified a thousand times.

Sport News in Brief

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, Ill., May 25.—Oscar "Happy" Felsch, Chicago outfielder, has entered into competition with "Babe" Ruth of New York, the home run king of baseball, for the honor of leading in circut drives in the American league. "Happy" cracked out his fifth homer in the game against Boston Wednesday, giving him two in two days and placing him in at tie with the New York slugger. Each has made five homers, according to averages released today and including games of Wednesday. Most of Ruth's homers were made on the Polo grounds where the field is short. Those of the Chicago flycatcher were long, clean drives.

There is a merry race on the Washington club between Roth and Rice for the honor of being the leading base stealer. Rice has pilfered eleven bases and Roth ten.

Ty Cobb, the Detroit star, is gradually finding his batting eye and has boosted his average to .277. Ruth is batting .260.

Johnston of Cleveland widened the gap between himself and Jackson of Chicago among the batters who have participated in ten or more games. Johnston added a few points to his average of last week, while Jackson dropped a few points. Johnston is topping the list with an average of .417, while Jackson is hitting .380.

Other leading batters: Kinney, Philadelphia .364; Gedeaon, St. Louis .364; Gerber, St. Louis .359; Felsch, Chicago .352; Hendryx, Boston .349; Jacobson, St. Louis .348; Sisler, St. Louis .343; Weaver, Chicago .343; Dugan, Philadelphia .337; Peckinpaugh, New York .325; Speaker, Cleveland .319.

The St. Louis National league club is in third place in team batting with an average of .260 and is ranked in last place in the percentage of games won and lost according to the averages published today and which include Wednesday's games. Only one member of the club is hitting in the ".300" class, and this is Rogers Hornsby, the star keystone sack guardian, who is the runner up to Nicholson of Pittsburgh.

Nicholson is leading the regulars with an average of .462 acquired in 14 games. Hornsby in 25 games in which he has been at bat 101 times, has cracked out forty-two hits for a total of fifty-seven bases, which include eight doubles, two triples and a homer for an average of .418. He is being pushed by Heinie Groh, captain of the Cincinnati world's champions, who is trailing with .408.

Dode Pasker, the veteran outfielder of the Chicago Cubs, has joined his teammate, Robertson, and Cy Williams of Philadelphia, for home run honors. The trio is tied with three each.

Max Carey, the fleet-footed outfielder of Pittsburgh, is showing the way for the base stealers with nine thefts under his belt. His nearest rival is a teammate, Southworth, who has stolen seven.

Other leading batters: Gowdy, Boston .364; Lebourveau, Philadelphia .361; Myers, Brooklyn .349; Daubert, Cincinnati .337; Twombly, Chicago .333; Z. Wheat, Brooklyn, .323; Young, New York .322; Burns, New York .321; Duncan, Cincinnati, .313; Roush, Cincinnati .309.

O'Mara of Indianapolis suffered a slump in batting among the American Association batters and tumbled out of the lead into seventh place. James of Minneapolis, in ten games, now is topping the list with .478, while Wickland, Toledo, showed an improvement and moved up into second place with a mark of .377. C. C. Robertson of Minneapolis is one point behind with .376.

Brief of Kansas City has hit out ahead of Gainor of Milwaukee and Riggert of St. Paul for home run honors. Brief has five while the other two have four each.

Dressen of St. Paul is showing the way to the base stealers with twelve thefts.

Other leading batters: Henry, Columbus .373; Tincup, Louisville .357; Gainor, Milwaukee .353; O'Mara, Indianapolis .350; Dyer, Toledo .347; Elmer Miller, St. Paul, .333; Henline, Indianapolis .333; Hertley, Columbus .326.

Blades of Memphis has dethroned E. Miller of Little Rock as leading batter of the Southern Association, the latter dropping into third place with an average of .342. Blades is batting .351, while Brazill, Atlanta, is in second place with .348.

Carroll of Memphis has been showing his heels to the base stealers and has pulled away from Gleason of Chattanooga and Harper of Little Rock, having stolen eleven bases. Gleason stole seven and Harper nine.

Other leading batters: Harper, Little Rock .333; Moore, Little Rock .330; Ellis, Little Rock .330; Wano, Little Rock .325; Ripperton, New Orleans .315; Meeks, Birmingham .308; Carroll, Memphis .307; Torkelson, New Orleans .304.

Shestak of St. Joseph and Reichle of Sioux City have batted themselves into a tie for batting honors of the Western league and have forced Bogart of Joplin, last week's leader, from the top. The leaders are hitting at a .429 clip. East of Wichita is runner-up to the duet with an average of .425, while Bogart's mark is .398.

Bogart, however, has overtaken Kelleher of St. Joseph for stolen base honors, having pilfered eleven bases to his rival's nine.

East is out in front in home runs with six.

Other leading batters: Crisby, St. Joseph .382; Brannon, Tulsa .372; Metz, Des Moines .372; Bonowitz, St. Joseph .362; Kellelher, St. Joseph .361; Pitts, Oklahoma City .360; Yaryhan, Wichita .351; Dunn, Joplin .351.

Just A Pome.

Now the men are throwing
hunches
That the fun will come in bunches,
And they say they'll prob'ly laugh
until they drop.
When the wimmen make selections
If they cast their first-time votes
just like they shop.
Take for instance Missus Hallots.
She will grab a lotta ballots
Then pretty quick she'll come back with the lot,
And she'll say "Now please don't shoot me
But these really do not suit me;
Mercy me, are these the only ones
you've go?"
Then there's fussy Wilma Wizzetts
Who in every poll she visits,
Fails to vote because the place is run so slack,
And says she "Now, listen brothers.
I shall visit all the others;
If there's none that suits me better,
I'll come back."
And there's also lean Miss Wickett
Who marks "X" on every ticket
And in front of every name that she can find.
And then just as they have checked her.
She yells out to the inspector,
"Will you please take these back,
I've changed my mind."
So the men are waging dollars
That they'll laugh within their collars,
And they really say they'll giggle
till they drop,
When the wimmen. bless their
gizzards
Start to vote like us male lizards—
That's of course if they should vote
just like they shop

The Lions Club met in regular luncheon and business session at the Harris Hotel at 11:15 today and adjourned at 1:00 o'clock. It was one of the livest sessions held for sometime.

J. D. PACE FOR CO. COMMISSIONER

In the Weekly News of this week's issue appears the announcement of J. D. Pace of Stonewall as a candidate for county commissioner from the 3rd district, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election, August 3.

Mr. Pace was recently appointed county commissioner by Governor Robertson to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of H. F. Bibb. This is the first office that Mr. Pace ever held. He has never been a candidate for any office and was appointed to his present position without asking for it. He has been a farmer all his life and has made a gratifying success in that field of labor.

Born in Collins County, Texas, and having lived twenty-five years in Denton County, Mr. Pace came to Pontotoc County ten years ago and has made his home near Stonewall. He is known as one of the best farmers of his section and is known as a man of great energy and the strictest integrity. No man in all the county has a better reputation for honest and square dealing.

Mr. Pace has no promises to make the public except that he will devote himself to the work of his office with the determination to give the people a good administration and deal fairly between man and man. The News asks its readers in the 3rd district to give careful consideration to the candidacy of Mr. Pace.

May Take Railroad

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Events of the next few months or weeks will determine whether ownership of railways will come again "despite popular opposition," Edward Strauss of New York today warned the interstate commerce committee, contending that the main thing at present is to establish a feeling of security in the minds of investors. Mr. Strauss appeared before the commission in support of the railroad's request for increased rates.

TROUBLED CONDITIONS IN MEXICO ARE REFLECTED ALONG THE BORDER

American soldiers stopping an automobile coming into El Paso from Mexico and (below) Mexican refugees in a side street at Agua Prieta.

An observer at the U. S.-Mexico boundary might easily tell without further means of information that conditions are troubled below the border. At El Paso American soldiers search all vehicles and question all individuals crossing the international bridge in either direction. Many Mexican refugees have appeared at various points along the boundary. Some of them are shown in the lower picture at Agua Prieta, a small town in the state of Sonora just below the U. S. Border.

E. S. Ratliff Is Now Attorney for State Corporation Com.

Attorney E. S. Ratliff of Ada has been appointed attorney for the state corporation commission to succeed O. R. Thraves, now an assistant attorney-general. Mr. Ratliff was formerly mayor of Ada, and has been prominent in east side democratic affairs.—Harlow's Weekly.

The above statement published last week in Harlow's Weekly brings surprise and sorrow to a large number of people in Ada and this section of Oklahoma.

Mr. Ratliff has been a citizen of Ada for the past sixteen years. Coming hear from Cooke County, Texas, Mr. Ratliff has been one of the foremost figures in the upbuilding of this city. He began the practice of law when he first came to Ada and in his profession he has been very successful.

Mr. Ratliff served two terms as mayor of Ada. When he was first elected mayor he was serving a term as councilman. During the first and second legislatures he represented this country in that body. He also did valiant service in this capacity. He recently ran for the office of Mayor of Ada for a third term but in this race was not successful.

Mr. Ratliff received the appointment as attorney to the corporation commission without seeking the place. It came to him voluntarily from people who knew of his public record and ability.

Mr. Ratliff has already taken up his duties with the corporation commission. He stays in Oklahoma City most of the time now and will move his family to the city to make his future home as soon as he can get business affairs in Ada in shape to move.

Mr. Ratliff takes up his new duties with the best wishes of a large number of friends and acquaintances.

MARTIAL LAW IN SEQUAYOH

FARMERS IN OPEN REVOLT SAYS WHITEHURST; ASKS FOR TROOPS; STATE INSPECTORS RESIGN.

By the Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 25.—Gov. J. B. A. Robertson was asked today by John A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture ,to declare martial law in a district of Sequoyah county and to send state troops there for the protection of state property.

Mr. Whitehurst declared that the farmers in three townships in that county are in "open defiance of the law." He returned this morning from Sequoyah county where he has been investigating the recent destruction of several dipping vats.

Unable to reach the governor by telephone, as he is in the southeastern part of the state on business, Mr. Whitehurst made his appeal for troops in a letter. He asserted that as a result of threats all of the inspectors charged with enforcement of the "tick law" have resigned. The destruction of a vat Sunday night brought the number so far destroyed to 15, he reported.

IMMIGRATION'S EUROPEAN TIDE AGAIN TURNS TOWARD CANADA

IMMIGRANTS TO CANADA

After an interval of about four years in which there was no immigration to Canada from Europe, the flood gates have opened and from the British Isles, France, Belgium, Holland and the Scandinavian peninsula the settlers are coming. Canada wants settlers and the peoples of a war tired Europe want new lands, want a fertile country where the far-off unhappy things can be forgotten and a new opportunity found.

To make things comfortable and to improve the first impressions the Canadian Pacific has through its department of Colonization and Development appointed an immigration agent who extends a welcoming hand to all of the new comers. It is his duty to meet each of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services steamers and preside as host to the "ancestors of tomorrow's Canadians."

It is neither pleasant or comfortable to come friendless to a strange land. Even the seasoned traveller feels this to a degree and the emigrant setting foot on a foreign land where customs, conditions and often language are different from his past experiences, feels it more.

Capt. Andrew MacDuff, veteran of two wars, versed in many languages, sympathetic, tactful and possessing a wide knowledge of human nature, is the man who gives the immigrant his welcome.

Andrew MacDuff, host, is shown in the picture above with a few of the sturdy folk who have come from Europe to help build Canada of the future. Canada feels that she is to be one of the powerful nations of the future. She feels that she is a child of destiny and in picking her citizens is doing it carefully so that in the years to come she will have no regrets.

funds will be used in rebuilding homes, assisting survivors and perhaps in educating orphans, according to the committee in charge of the relief work.

Careless Driving Disastrous.

Numerous incidents of poorly guarded railroad crossings were cited by members of the committee.

Unusual Monday Night Service at Tabernacle North Ada Witnessed

Evangelist Sparks was out of town Monday night looking after his family in Oklahoma City, and will be back on hand for Tuesday's services. An unusual crowd, unusual for number, unusual for intense interest, greeted the singer and the pastor as they came to take care of the service. Singer Post said he was all out of "pep" for Monday, but he certainly did not fail in his part. The pastor preached on "The Woes of Sin." On rising he called on his membership to rally to the fighting line. Before the service was over it was easily seen that every member of his church was proving their loyalty to their pastor and to their Savior. Six persons were seen to literally run from the Lord, several ran from the workers and other resisted in fearful trembling. There were shouts of old time rejoicing. The audience was dismissed three times and it looked like the people were going to stay until midnight.

Services will continue morning and evening throughout the week. You are invited to come but please leave your criticisers at home and bring your sympathisers.

FASHION SUIT TO PLEASE THE VERY FEMININE MAIDS

By ELOISE

Many young girls and women do not like tailored clothes and some few who do not appear to best advantage in severe things do well to shun them for the more purely feminine styles. It is always a temptation, however, to get the plain, practical garment which may be worn upon any occasion and to pass by the fashion suit as impractical. This is surely a mistake if the tailored garments are not becoming, for it is as bad on the appearance to sacrifice style for utility as it is on the purse to sacrifice utility for style. The style suit always has a prominent place in the wardrobe of the woman of leisure or the school miss, but it is not so popular with the business woman.

Here is a fashion suit for the very feminine miss which is a happy combination of style and service. It is fashioned of navy trico serge, which is always a practical and serviceable fabric. It is not too ornate, merely trimmed with a deep collar of taffeta and taffeta tabs on the coat front and sleeves. Crocheted acorns dangling from the trimming. Two of the season's favorite features are shown here in the apron tunic, which flares at the hips, and the eton jacket with its kimono sleeves The suit is not extreme, but yet it is distinctive enough to be termed out of the ordinary. It permits of many charming effects in the matter of blouse .The over blouse may be worn to form a vestee; a tuck-in blouse with a frill over the collar is also pretty. or the little peplum blouses with their fetching ruffles just peeping out from under the jacket is also a good accompaniment.

Cotton Market Report

(As furnished by Ada Cotton Exchange.)

NEW ORLEANS, May 25—Anticipation of a bullish June bureau created a better feeling and higher prices today, due to shorts covering. Spots here were reported in better demand at the highest basis of the season or above quotations. More rain occurred over last night in the eastern half of the belt, heavy locally in Georgia, but generally fair weather prevailed in Texas and Oklahoma. The weather during the past week was more favorable for farm work, germination and growth of cotton, and it is probable that tomorrow's weekly government review will be favorable as a whole, especially as regards Texas where climatic conditions were decidedly better. Should the market decline tomorrow in event of the weekly weather and crop report being bearing temporarily, we favor buying on any decline of consequence in anticipation of a bullish government crop condition report June 2. Private monthly crop condition reports indicate the lowest June bureau report on record, perhaps much lower than the previous lowest of 69.5 in 1917. Private returns issued so far average the condition of the crop from 64 to 67 with the acreage about the same as last year's small total of 34,000,000. It is possible that the trade demand will improve in advance of the bureau report, as buyers are likely to be influenced in anticipation of a very low crop condition report and fear of higher prices in consequence. The price cutting movement in commodities other than raw cotton seems to be about discounted, as too much cannot be expected at this time in that respect, and the trade will likely be influenced more by prospects for the new crop in the future, particularly since the world will likely need a large crop for next season, whereas there is no asurance of the making of a moderate yield, with the possibility of producing another short crop unless crop conditions improve materially from now on.—H. & B. BEER.
